Interpreter's Café ©*

Hello friends,

It was great to meet with you last time and to talk about our experience using certain phrases and vocabulary. It was a pleasure to share the forensic glossary and we also learned about translations into Spanish. We are learning a lot from each other and this will make us better interpreters. I hope that we can all join next time. We've already had some ideas for the next meeting. Please maintain lists of the words and phrases you want to talk about and also bring your stories and ideas!

We will get together again in March!

Hasta pronto,
Jennifer
